

Binding Authority Reinstated in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina

Hurricane Florence has been downgraded to a tropical depression, and the while the worst of the winds are now behind us, widespread rains and flash flooding are expected to continue over the next several days.

As a result of the downgrade, Frankenmuth Insurance is lifting the binding authority suspension in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina effective immediately. We continue to keep all those affected by the storm in our thoughts.

To stay informed on storm developments, please visit www.nhc.noaa.gov.