

MCCA Recoupment Fee Explained

Auto rates are climbing in the State of Michigan, and one attributing factor that's been making headlines is the Michigan Catastrophic Claims Association (MCCA) deficit recoupment fee that is being charged to all Michigan auto policyholders, effective July 1, 2023.

While the topic has been covered in the news, there hasn't been a tangible tool to help educate consumers, until now. Thanks to a suggestion by one of our agency partners, a guide to understanding the MCCA and current assessment fees has been developed and is available for download by clicking here.

We hope this new guide will provide your team with relevant talking points to help your clients understand the MCCA and the current fee schedule.
