

Premium leniency being observed in Tennessee

Our underwriters are receiving daily reports regarding the status of policies within the state. Following a review of these policy reports, they are calling agents for their assistance in determining if the policy and insured is impacted by the recent storm.